PUBLIC HEARING ON HIGHWAY PLANS HERE MAY 29

Proposed plans for Interstate Highway No. 10 through Hancock County, and connecting facilities for present U. S. 90 west of Bay St. Louis, will be explained at a public hearing by the Mississippi State Highway Department at 2 p. m. Friday, May 29 at the Agricultural Building on Necaise Ave., in Bay St. Louis.

Commissioner John D. Smith of the Southern District said that anyone interested in the highway improvements planned for Hancock and the Coast area is invited to the meeting.

Highlighting the discussion will be the proposed plan for Interstate 10 from the Louisiana line, across Hancock to the Harrison County line, a distance of approximately 19 miles.

Engineers of the department will also explain proposed four-lane construction on U. S. Highway 90 and State Route No. 43 west of Bay St. Louis to link the scenic coast route with the new interstate.

"Our plans have been worked out with local leaders after years of study. The facilities now proposed will tie in with development throughout this area of Mississippi," Mr. Smith said.

The commissioner explained that public hearings are held to acquaint local people with proposed highway plans, and to afford an opportunity for questions or statements by interested persons. After the hearing, engineers may proceed with development of detailed plans and other steps leading to actual construction of the highway.

Sales Tax In Effect

The one-half cent city sales tax increase over the existing half-cent tax, authorized by the city's voters March 21, went into effect Friday, May 1.

Mayor John Scafide said it is expected the annual increase in the city's revenue will be approximately $32,000, which will be used toward the retirement of the $3 million revenue bond issue approved in the March 21 special election.

The city is presently collecting about $32,000 annually in sales tax, and with the increase in business activity in the area, it is anticipated this figure will be doubled, the Mayor added.

The City, Mayor Scafide stated, will advertise for bids on the bonds, which will provide for construction of a sewerage system and improvements of the existing water and natural gas systems, in June.

COMMUTER TRAIN IN LAST RUN

Louisville & Nashville's Train No. 9 left Pass Christian Wednesday morning at 6:53 on its last run between the Gulf Coast and New Orleans. In similar fashion, Train No. 12 left Union Station in New Orleans around 5:15 Wednesday evening on its final return trip to the coastal area.

The two trains, which have been in existence since 1905, are being removed from service, L&N officials said because they have been losing passengers and money for several years.

Officials of the railroad said average daily passenger patronage has declined in the recent past and now totals around 37 a day. The railroad, officials said, has lost money on the two runs at the rate of $5,000 a month.

Removal of the trains Wednesday is the result of an Interstate Commerce Commission order, issued Tuesday afternoon, which approved L&N's proposal of last December to discontinue their operation.

In 1959 the railroad was given permission to discontinue operation of the trains from Ocean Springs to Pass Christian but was told to continue the service from that point to New Orleans.

Some of the cigarettes and clothing taken from the store, were found in their possession, the Sheriff added.

STATEMENT OF SCHOOL BOARD

We are naturally disappointed that the School Board issue did not receive the 3/5th approval of the voters which was necessary for passage, however, we will continue to explore avenues to finance the building program which we believe to be essential to the Hancock County School system. We resorted to the bond issue method of financing only because the money was not available to meet the present needs of the system.

We also believe that a sound educational system is required in order to attract into the County those new people who are moving into this area in connection with the NASA project. We will continue our efforts toward meeting the educational needs of the children of Hancock County.

WAVELAND HO. CLUB MEETS AT AGRICULTURE CENTER

Waveland Home Demonstration Club met last Tuesday afternoon at the Agricultural Center with Madeline R. A. Brewer, H. Stille and B. J. McDougall as hostesses. "Do not get discouraged, it may be the last key in the bunch that will open the door" is the club's thought for the month.

A report on the recent council meeting was given by Mrs. U. N. Durbin. Mrs. Edward LeVasseur was installed as vice president for 1965.

Plans were discussed by Mrs. Stiller and Mrs. Joe Vittari, co-chairman for the flower sale Friday and Saturday, May 8 and 9 for the benefit of Hancock County T. B. patients in the hospital at Magee.

The Study Topic, Opportunities in Higher Education and Vocational Training in Our State, was presented by Mrs. Brewer.

Mrs. Marcia Hughes, Home Agent, spoke of the dress review at Jones County Junior College, Ellenville, to be staged April 30. A demonstration on care of new fabrics was given by Mrs. Hughes. A social hour followed the business session.

A new, less painful hypodermic instrument is composed of a one-piece disposable stainless steel needle in a sealed, one-dose container.

an unexpected squall. Some times it gets rather rough a few miles out. Be on the safe side. Good fishermen know what to do and usually return to go again.

When cranking a big outboard motor, start it in neutral. Starting in running position can throw someone overboard if he is not ready to take off. Use your head as well as the pull cord. I've been over.

Pictures of fishermen run in this column are run in order taken. Don't be impatient, there are a few ahead of you.

Flew over the Bay and surrounding territory last week. It was a beautiful sight to see the rivers and bayous where we fish regularly as well as the golf course. The ride was swell but I'm like the guy who said: "I like the Good Old Terra Firma, more firm, less Terror."

Now is the time for blackberries. They are most everywhere and the kids enjoy picking them. Beware of snakes, they love blackberry bushes, too.

When people tell you they won't go soft shell crabbing and floundering on account of sting-rays, it's not as bad as it sounds.

Sting-rays are harmless as a rule and as long as they are left alone, they won't harm anyone unless they step on them. Stay in shallow water where you can see them, keep your light working well and let them do the running.

LOCAL SPORTSMAN

EDDIE MARQUEZ

Eddie, besides being an employee of the Post Office, runs his own bar and between the two, he is kept pretty busy. He doesn't do much fishing, but loves soft crabbing and floundering. He is a past master at both and gets his share. The water will be there a long time and you can catch up on your crabbing, etc., later.

BEAVER POPULATION IS THREAT TO
MISS. LANDOWNERS

The beaver population, which is rising rapidly, presents a serious threat to many Mississippi landowners, according to F. H. Hube, Laurel, Hardwood Chairman of the Mississippi Forestry Association, an organization of individuals and companies interested in forestry development.

Damage caused by beavers includes both girdling of valuable trees and flooding of woodlands, crops and pastures, Hube said.

A new publication entitled, "Control of Beavers in Mississippi's Forests" is available to landowners from the Mississippi Forestry Association, 447 King Edward Hotel, Jackson, Mississippi. Prepared by the MFA and the Mississippi Committee of American Forest Products Industries, the booklet gives information on types of beaver damage and illustrations of the latest trapping methods.

In 1962 the Mississippi law was amended to "provide that beavers shall be classified as predatory animals." The landowner who is losing crops, pastures or timber because of beaver damage may now protect his property in any manner he may choose. Trapping is proving highly successful and is considered the most humane method. In most counties where there is a serious problem, Hube said, the local Boards of Supervisors have purchased traps and have them available on a loan basis.

"Proper control of the beaver population is necessary to a sustained conservation of Mississippi's valuable timber resource. Periodic inspections should be made by landowners of their property because once the population is out of control flooding and damage can occur rapidly," Hube concluded.

It's a Conservation merry-go-round all right. Because nature goes round and round in the process of creating, destroying and rebuilding natural resources.

Throughout the state and nation, 4-H Club members are lining up to get on the conservation merry-go-round. They are eager to do their share of protecting and replacing the forests, wildlife, grasslands, water and soil that are either used up or destroyed.

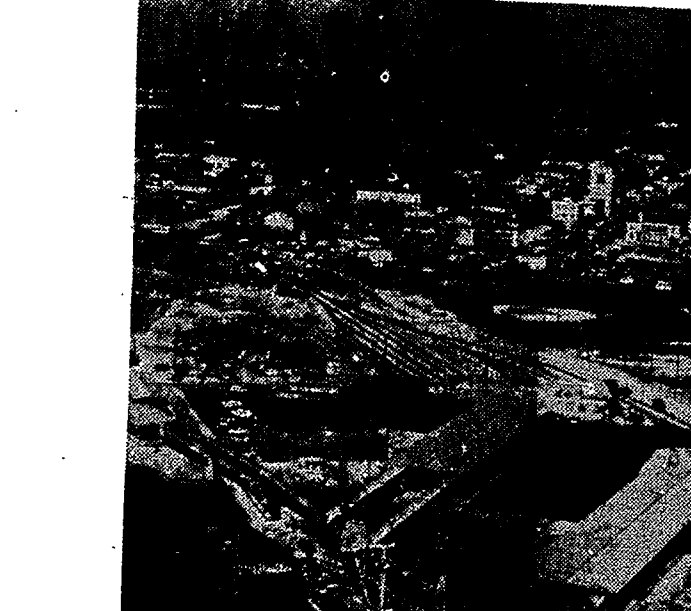

They deplore senseless misuse of nature's gifts. A new 4-H Conservation program, recently announced by the National 4-H Service Committee, offers young people incentive awards. They are county conservation medals, a free trip to the state winner to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, $500 college scholarships to the six top members of each state winners.

Sponsor is John Deere, a long-time backer of the program. The program is carried out under the supervision of the 4-H Extension Service, county extension agents and club leaders. Winners in all categories will be announced at the close of the 1964 club year.

Family Visit

They'll be here any minute! As soon as I finish the flowers I'll go and sit with Dad on the front porch, so we'll be right there when they all drive in.
It'll be just wonderful to see them again.

Dad and I were saying last night that we couldn't have been blessed with better children or lovelier grandchildren. We've been so fortunate. Of course, there have been some tragic

THE CHURCH FOR ALL - ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and read your Bible daily.

and terrible times, but God has never failed to give us the strength to meet them, and the courage to go on again.
We've always been a churchgoing family, and I know the children never miss a Sunday even now. Tomorrow we'll all go to church together, and it will seem like the old days when our family was still here at home. We have so much to thank God for, every one of us.

CIVIL RIGHTS BILL DOES NOT PROVIDE FOR TRIAL BY JURY

WASHINGTON - The civil rights bill does not provide the basic fundamental right of a trial by jury for those charged with criminal contempt of the federal courts.

This is the most flagrant and outstanding example of how the proponents of this bill are willing to trample on the rights of the citizens in their haste and determination to grant special privileges to the Negro race.

Therefore, I have been very pleased this week to join with Senator Talmadge of Georgia and several other Southern Senators in offering an amendment to the civil rights bill that would guarantee a trial by jury in such federal criminal contempt cases.

To deny a person charged with criminal contempt the right to demand a trial by jury is to tamper with one of the most delicate balance wheels in our whole system of Constitutional Government.

Since the U. S. Supreme Court has failed to recognize that every citizen has this basic civil right, in all criminal contempt cases, the Congress by statutory enactment should adopt an amendment spelling it out in clear and unmistakeable language. That's exactly what my amendment does. I hope it is adopted.

Meanwhile, those pushing for passage of the civil rights bill this week offered a substitute amendment that would leave it to the discretion of the judge to determine if a defendant is to be tried with or without a jury.

That is a "puny" proposal. It merely cuts the bark and does not touch the wood of the tree. Every person charged with criminal contempt of court should have a right to demand trial by jury.

I will continue to push for the adoption of the Talmadge-Stennis Amendment which will guarantee a jury trial in all federal criminal contempt of court cases. The substitute proposed by supporters of the bill is not broad enough and does not assure defendants of the trial by jury to which they are entitled.

COLMER CALLED BACK TO CAPITOL

Gulfport - Congressman William
M. Colmer has been called back to Washington by urgent legislative business before the House Rules Committee, including the pending transportation bill.

The veteran Congressman recently opened a district office at the Markham Hotel in Gulfport to kick off his campaign for re-election to the Fifth Congressional District post he has held since 1933. Waller Ratson, his long-time assistant is managing the office.

Congressman Colmer hopes to return to Mississippi next weekend to resume his campaign. He plans to spend as much time as possible in the 16-county district, filling a number of speaking engagements prior to the June 2 primary.

However, with Congress in session, he said he would be forced to divide his time between Mississippi and Washington.

Colmer is vice-chairman of the House Rules Committee and ranks seventh in seniority in the 435-member House. He is the dean of Mississippi's House delegation.
Colmer's son, Pascagoula attorney James H. Colmer will manage his father's campaign.

BUSY SCHEDULE

A busy schedule of outstanding events has been arranged for the Mississippi Gulf Coast this summer offering a wide variety of sporting specials to go with the natural attractions of this playground of mid-America, and all of these special events are just extras to the wonderful array of interesting excursions, site-seeing tours, and attractions that are part of the Coast. Golf is always a popular sport along the Coast, and five championship golf courses attest to the popularity.

WSST. JOHN'S CHURCH

Father Connelley, pastor, St. John's Catholic Church, has called a meeting for 7 o'clock Friday night at St. John's Parish Hall, Lakeside, to formulate plans and appoint committees for the annual church fair scheduled for July 24 and 25.

All parishioners are urged to attend.

water for the high pressure industrial water system at the test site.

Bids will be received on May 21 for the construction of a paved road connecting the north and south entrances and paved branch roads to the administrative, support, and test areas. The new roads will total about 4.7 miles.

Bids will be opened in Mobile, Alabama, at the office of the Army District Engineer, who is responsible for real estate acquisition, engineering and design, and construction at the new multi-million dollar NASA test installation in south Mississippi.

Both contracts have been set aside for award to small business concerns in the interest of assuring this firm a fair share of Government procurement.

GAINESVILLE, MISS. - Contracts totaling $2,069,001 have been awarded to 13 firms to furnish hydraulic and cryogenic valves and fittings at NASA's Mississippi Test Operations.

The contracts were awarded today by the Army Corps of Engineers, Mobile District, which acts as construction agent for MTO.

The valves and fittings will be used in the cryogenics dock area where liquid oxygen and liquid hydrogen propellants will be stored prior to use in rocket vehicles.

Mississippi Test Operations, a division of the Marshall Space Flight Center, Huntsville, Ala., is being established in Hancock County to static test the first two stages of the Saturn V moon rocket.

The contracts today went to the following firms: Security Valve Co., Burbank, Calif., $13,630; B. H. Hadley, Inc., Panama, Calif., $270,765; Harman Equipment Co., Los Angeles, Calif., $10,855; I. T. T. General Controls, Inc., Hammel, Dahl Division, Warwick, R. I., $1,096,779; Fluid Dynamics, Inc., Morristown, N. J., $177,319; Ac of Textron, Inc., Whittier, Calif., $18,166; Laewig Valve Co., Los Angeles, Calif., $88,708; Tescome Corp., Fluid Systems Division, Minneapolis, Minn., $10,250; Control Components, Inc., Los Alamitos, Calif., $22,231; Vacco Valve Co., South El Monte, Calif., $111,099; Permanent Filter Co., Compton, Calif., $161,942; Combination Pump Valve Co., Philadelphia, Penn., $68,748; Anderson Greenwood & Co., Bellaire, Texas, $23,062.

SOYBEAN PLANTING
PROBLEM TO FARMERS
THIS SPRING

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. - April 10. Low germination of soybean seed is a serious problem this year, according to W. McKie, assistant agronomist of the Co. Operative Extension Service.

He advises farmers who have not done so to purchase their seed now.

Those who have saved planting seed should send a sample to the Mississippi Seed Testing Laboratory at State College for a germination test. The results of this test will help determine the amount of seed to plant.

"Last fall our soybeans were harvested with an extremely low moisture content, due to the dry weather," he explained. "This caused some seed to be cracked and otherwise damaged in harvesting. Because of this low moisture content, the handling and processing of seed beans have caused some drop in germination."

Avoid handling seed beans roughly before taking them to the field. Rough handling can substantially reduce germination by cracking the seed coat, allowing the germ plasm to die.

Plant enough seed to have 7 to 10 viable or live, seed per foot of row. If seed of low germination must be planted, increase the planting rate to give this 7 to 10 good seed per row foot.

The small size of many beans is another current problem. If these small seed are sown, they will germinate all right. But this affects the planting rate.

Do not plant too many seeds. Too thick a stand will cause excess lodging.

"It will pay you this year to treat your planting seed with arasan, captan or sporgan to aid in improving your stand," Mr. McKie said. "If it is necessary to inoculate seed, do not use a seed treatment."

Other suggestions are:
1. Prepare a good seedbed.
2. Plant seed to moisture.
3. Plant during May if possible.
4. Control weeds. Ask the county agent for the latest weed control information.

Telephone Handset Position Important to Telephoning - Present and Future. Even with the experimental "Picture-Phone," holding the telephone handset in the proper way is important. Nancy Willis, Southern Bell employee (above) demonstrates the proper way. The receiver should be held directly in front of the lips, about 1-inch (two finger's width) away from the mouth. Holding the receiver in this position, and speaking directly into it, improves the quality of transmission and gives the listening party a good, strong, clear signal. The "Picture-Phone" - which may be the phone of the future, is one of several models being tested and developed by the Bell Labs. It features a small TV screen so caller can "see" the other party; a small TV camera opening so caller sees the caller and, Touch-Tone push buttons, which replace the familiar dial. Any way you look at it, holding the handset in the proper position today is just as important as being in the proper position in front of the camera in tomorrow's telephone.

OPPOSED TO GAS
TAX INCREASE

JACKSON, MISS. - The mood of Mississippi service station operators over the proposed state gasoline tax increase runs from mild resentment to ill-tempered rage, according to the association's president, W. E. Sumrall.

Sumrall said that more taxes would mean more tax inventory and a greater potential loss on credit sales. "My tanks hold 16,000 gallons in inventory dollars," he said. "However, $1,200.00 of that inventory is written off immediately as an item on which I have no way of making $1 profit. It is the tax added to my inventory which I must pay before I collect a dime from sales."

COUNTY
AGENT'S
NOTES

O. C. SWORDS
County Agent

DAIRY NOTES

Want to dairy profitably? Most everyone does. These suggestions may help you:

Follow a good breeding program. For most dairymen the artificial breeding program offers the best opportunity. Last year of the 22 dairymen in Mississippi receiving the "Master Dairyman" award, 19 were breeding artificially.

Plan for adequate pasture and stored feed supplies for the entire year. Balance your cow numbers with the available feed supply. For efficient feeding many dairymen must either reduce cow number or produce more feed.

Make dairying a business by enrolling the herd on an acceptable herd testing program - either DHIA or Weigh-A-Day-A-Month. One of these programs will fit any size herd. The cost is reasonable. Local County Agents have detailed information on both.

Practice good herdsmanship, or good herd management. Many dairymen have from $10,000 to $50,000 invested in cattle alone. Such investments should be well taken care of.

CORN PRODUCTION

Remember if you are growing corn for silage to use one-fourth more fertilizer and 20 percent more seed to the acre than if you were planting corn for grain.

Corn is the best silage crop for livestock and it is not uncommon to grow 100 to 120 bushels of corn to the acre in silage.

SOYBEANS

Indications are that Mississippi soybean acreage will be up around 6 percent this year. This means also mean loss of business. Customers shop these days and care little for the fact that I have considerable money invested in a service station, and not just a "filling station" as so many manufacturers of automobiles are inclined to believe when warranty conditions require that cars be taken back to the automobile dealer for complete service. We are now essentially gasoline merchants but with all the high costs of operating quality service facilities and community service centers.

"Service station operators also have their share of customer complaints," he said. Listening is a matter of courtesy, even if we do not have the time; however, in this instance we make use of every opportunity to explain to our customers that our gasoline not only sells for less than it did in 1925, but it is far superior in quality and performance and will get them farther down the road - for less money per gallon. Having said that, he added we then have to explain that the tax (State, Federal and Local) has increased from almost nothing in 1925 to more than 12¢ per gallon.

Sumrall challenged the public to name just one other merchant, or businessman, who gives more in public service and receives less consideration from public servants. He said that if he were in the business of selling "mink coats" (a luxury item), a $1,026 gross sale would mean that the customer received $700 worth of coat. Contrast that with $900 worth of gasoline delivered to the customer for $1,400. The $900 cost carried a 12¢ tax tag, whereas the $900 worth of gasoline, an essential commodity (not luxury) was tagged with tax amounting to $940.

With this increase in acreage, the past we have not had much about increasing per acre yields. Let's change that. Let's grow more to the acre on more acres.

By increasing per acre yields only five bushels to the acre, it would mean around $12.50 an acre more in your pocket.

One of the major limiting factors in increasing yields is weeds. Poor weed control. Another, this year could be poor germination of soybean planting seed.

To help overcome this problem, handle the seed carefully when taking them to the field. Rough handling can substantially reduce germination by cracking the seed coat.

This year it will be especially good to treat planting seed with arasan, captan or sporgan to aid germination. Note: When it is necessary to inoculate seed, do not use a seed treatment.

If it is necessary that you plant seed of low germination, increase the planting rate to get 7 to 10 good seed per foot of row.

For more information on this, and for the latest information on weed control, see your local county Agent.

DAIRY FEEDING

Poor quality roughage does not do much for a dairy cow. You can make the cow eat the low quality hay, if you grind it and add molasses, but you can't make her digest it. It is like the old saying, "You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink."

Here are some reasons for not grinding poor quality hay:

The cow is designed to eat large quantities of good quality, long hay. Nature gave her the ability to handle this hay properly.

When low quality ground hay is fed, the butterfat test is usually lowered.

And the added expense of grinding the hay and adding molasses increase the cost of feed.

Make your plans this year to grow plenty of good quality roughage. You pay for it whether you grow it or not. If you use low quality, you pay in loss of milk production.

TEMPORARY GRAZING

May 1-10 are the best dates to plant temporary summer grazing crops, but if you are short on grazing this spring, it may pay you to plant in early April.

Make your plans to make three plantings about three weeks apart instead of one planting. At each Peacetime veterans who served overseas or who were in combat. The unmarried widow of a male veteran. All applicants must have been discharged under honorable conditions.

World War I service is between April 6, 1917 and Nov. 11, 1918. Such veterans must make a 20 per cent down payment of the appraised value of the property. Any World War I veteran is eligible to apply, regardless of time served. World War II service is between September 16, 1940 and July 25, 1947. Korean War service is from June 27, 1950 through January 31, 1955.

Any veteran whose loan-guaranty eligibility has expired is eligible for consideration of loan of 70 per cent of the appraised value of the property not to exceed our maximum loan of $12,500.00.

"DIXIE" DIVISION TO TRAIN AT CAMP SHELBY

The 31st inf. "Dixie" Division will train together at Camp Shelby, Miss., during their annual summer field training from June 28 through July 12. This will be the first time the entire Division has trained together since June 1953 at Fort McClellan, Alabama.

Due to lack of range facilities at Military Post the 31st Division previously trained at either the tank Battalions or Artillery Battalions were forced to attend separate camps.

The Mississippi National Guard has many years been developing Camp Shelby into a division size training site. This includes Headquarters Buildings, Barracks, Mess halls, Dispensary, Motor pools, and the much needed firing ranges from tanks and Artillery.

Recently representatives from Alabama part of the 31st Division and the 21st Armor Group of Alabama attended a pre camp conference at Camp Shelby.

All of the Alabama Guardsmen were very pleased with the development of the division size training area and agreed that Camp Shelby is the answer to their training requirements.

Four field training periods are scheduled for this summer. They are June 28-July 12, June 14-28, June 28-July 12, July 14-August 2. During this period approximately 14,000 men will participate in large scale exercises using what they have learned during the past year at their local armories.

CIVIL RIGHTS BILL PRIMARILY DIRECTED AT SOUTH

WASHINGTON - The FEPC provision of the proposed civil rights bill which we have been discussing here for two months is directed primarily at the South.

It purports to apply to the whole nation. In reality, it is a sectional bill. The proposals are not willing to apply it across the board, and therefore it can be nothing but a penalty bill.

I offered figures on the Senate floor to show that out of a total U. S. labor force of 72,000,000 workers, possibly only 8,000,000 would be covered by the FEPC section of the pending bill, and most of those are in the South.

Mississippi has no FEPC law, but in spite of that and in spite of the fact that Mississippi has the largest Negro population percentage (42%) in the nation, we still are below the national average in non-white unemployment. Moreover, Mississippi's Negro unemployment rate is below that of 24 of the 25 states which do have State FEPC laws.

The proposed FEPC law is not necessary and will not cure the evil which its authors claim it will cure.

For example, Mississippi has a non-white unemployment rate on only 7.1 percent, even without an FEPC law, but Rhode Island, which has had an FEPC law since 1949, has a non-white unemployment rate of 10%.

Pennsylvania, California and Minnesota, for example, all have State FEPC laws, yet those states have unemployment among their Negro populations of 11.3 percent, 10 percent, and 12.8 percent, respectively.

I repeat that all of these states have larger Negro unemployment than Mississippi which has no FEPC law and does not want or need one.

In fact, these figures prove that if additional legislation is needed anywhere, it's in those Northern States.

Social Security

The social security article for this week deals with social security taxes on wages over $400.

There is often confusion concerning the way social security taxes are paid. Here are the basic facts. If you are employed, your share of the tax is deducted from your wages each pay day. Your employer sends it, with an equal amount as his own share, to the District Director of Internal Revenue.

If you are in covered self-employment and your net earnings are $400 or more a year, you must report your earnings and pay your social security self-employment tax each year when you file your individual income tax return. Even if you are not required to pay any income tax, you must file an income tax return and pay any social security self-employment tax due.

The maximum amount of earnings that can count for social security and on which you pay social security taxes is $4800 a year. From this payment of tax you and your family get protection against the future loss of income because of your retirement, disability, or death.

The National Science Foundation estimates that $98 million was spent on research by primary ferrous metal producers in 1962. Steel company laboratories currently employ an estimated 3,100 scientists, engineers and supporting personnel.

FORESTRY NOTES

Wood, one of the oldest and most versatile building materials, is also the most "comfortable" material to live with and a material that is always in style, according to a survey of 1,028 men and women representing a cross section of American life when asked to name their preferences for materials popularly used in building construction.

When it comes to the material that is "always in style," 62 percent of the men and women questioned gave wood the nod. To the question on the material that is "warm and friendly," 80 percent of the men and women said wood. On the question of "attractiveness," 36 percent of those questioned named wood.

This nationwide survey was sponsored by the American Forest

Community in Hancock County near Poycaine. Today, over 10,000 widely scattered consumers in the three counties receive electric service from the company. In 1938 less than 1 percent of the population in the rural areas had central station electric service.

Today, virtually every nook and cranny of Coast Electric's area has electric service.

The Association employees 80 people with an annual payroll in excess of $300,000. It was noted in the Annual Report published this week that the Association has purchased over $500,000 in poles alone since 1938. All the poles were grown, cut, peeled and processed in our three county area.

This is in keeping with the Association's policy of local buying. Since 1948 the manager of Coast Electric has been H. Hardin Shattuck. Shattuck is a graduate of Mississippi State University and a native of Yazoo City, Mississippi. Before taking over as manager of the co-op he was a Field Engineer for the Rural Electrification Administration.

He is Mississippi's representative on the Board of Directors of the National Rural Electrification Cooperative Association, the service organization that represents the 1000 rural electric in the Nation.

In noting the progress of the utility during the last 26 years Shattuck stated that the kilowatt usage of Coast Electric consumers has shown a steady increase. "This is indicative of the general growth and prosperity of the area we serve," he said. "In 1943 the average consumer paid 4.6¢ per kilowatt hour for electricity. Last year the average cost per kilowatt hour for Coast Electric consumer-owners was 2.5¢."

The huge Mississippi Test Operations will encompass over 125,000 acres of Coast Electric's area. Nearly 1000 consumers will eventually be displaced by the facility. "This represents $100,000 per year in revenue," Shattuck stated. "We have not yet received a settlement from the Corps of Engineers for our lines in the Buffer Zone." The electrical needs of the Test Site will not be served by the Association.

The sale of box lunches, sandwiches and soft drinks will be under the direction of Mr. J. D. Penton, Principal of Hancock North Central High School.

NOTICE!
